

ALLAIRE VILLAGE INC.

The Historic Village at Allaire is a 501 (c)3 non-profit, living history museum that celebrates the life and times of James P. Allaire's Howell Works Company, a major industrial center in the 1830's. The Historic Village at Allaire, a community listed on the New Jersey and National Registers of Historic Places, is an outdoor, is a living history museum operated by Allaire Village Inc.

This non-profit, educational organization was established to serve the public with interpretation and educational programming about the history and culture associated with the site, which is located within the confines of Allaire State Park.

Allaire Village, Inc. relies solely on the generous support of you, the visiting public. The museum's educational, interpretive, and fund-raising programs are primarily staffed by volunteers and are funded only by your generous contributions, and your patronage of its retail stores and the various fundraising programs. All membership levels are Tax Deductable.

Thank you for supporting New Jersey's history at the Historic Village at Allaire.
